EARTHQUAKE VICTIMS MAY NUMBER OVER 100,000

Rome, January 15.—Constantly shifting estimates based on reports that continue to trickle in, now place the death toll from Wednesday's earthquake at 20,000 and the injured at a number in excess of 25,000.

Hundreds, possibly thousands, of victims are still buried alive, imprisoned by the wreckage of their homes, while rescuers from every walk of life struggle desperately to dig them out.

The principal loss of life and probably the chief property damage appears to have been in Avezzano and the town of Sora, 15 miles away. Both these municipalities were destroyed and their population virtually wiped out.

The latest reports place the number of dead in Avezzano at 10,000 and in Sora at 4,000. In at least 60 other towns affected, more than 6,000 have been killed. From these towns came the majority of the injured. In Avezzano and Sora almost every one was killed.

Alps Trouble, Too.

Genua, January 15.—News which has reached here from Como and Chiasso indicates that the earthquake was felt in the Italian valley clear to the Swiss frontier. Telegraph and telephone lines are generally down in that district, but it has been ascertained that no loss of life is reported there.

COLONEL THOMAS A. DAVIS 71 YEARS OLD TOMORROW.

LIQUOR FIGHT

May Drag Along For Years—Saloons In Maysville Certain To Remain Open For One Year—Opinion of Court of Appeals In Shelbyville Case.

Following is the opinion handed down by the Appellate Court which again throws the doors of many saloons open indefinitely:

The opinion follows a uniform line of decisions of the court since the adoption of the local option laws. It also decides that the 1914 amendments to the local option law does not change this rule. Under the act as it existed before the 1914 amendment became effective as soon as the certificate of the Canvassing Board was entered on the record book of the County Court. The amended act says: "The law shall be in full force and effect at the expiration of 60 days from the date of the entry of the certificate of the Canvassing Board in the order book of the County Court, and thereafter no license theretofore issued shall be of any force and effect."

It was contended by the drys that this amendment made the local option election effective 60 days after the entry and stopped the sale of liquor even though contest was entered and appeal made.

The license of the Smith-McKenny Company expired October 14, whereas the election was held September 28. The license was renewed for one year and on December 12, 60 days after the certificate of the canvassing board had been entered on the order book, which was done notwithstanding notice of contest, it was contended the company should have ceased selling liquor.

The Court of Appeals, however, held that the amendment did not change the rule, that contest and appeal, properly taken, suspended the effect of the election, and said the county judge should not have recorded the certificate on October 12 and the recording was of no effect, because the notice of contest had theretofore been served.

"This uniform ruling has become settled and was, of course, well known to the legislature of 1914, when it enacted the amendment of that year. If it had intended to change the effect of the law in this respect so as to make the election effective, notwithstanding the appeal, it would not only have been quite easy to do it, but it was to be expected that it would have been done in express terms. A few lines, providing that the service of the contest notice shall not prevent the recording of the certificate or that the law should become effective at the expiration of 60 days after the entry of the certificate, notwithstanding contest, appeal and supersedeas, would have been sufficient."

The court said that repeal by inference is not favored, and especially since the amendment was so drastic in other respects without touching upon this point.

Effect of Decision—Litigation May Continue For Many Months.

Shelbyville, Ky., January 15.—The Court of Appeals' decision in the Smith-McKenny case, dissolving the temporary injunction granted by Circuit Judge Marshall on December 30, restraining the defendants from selling spirituous and vinous liquors, was received here shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and within half an hour thereafter all of the saloons were open except A. P. Hiter's, who had not renewed his license, which expired on January 1.

All of the saloons had remained closed since the morning of January 5, on the advice of their attorneys, who contended that the period of 60 days specified in the County Unit Act during which the sale of intoxicants voted continue after a county had voted dry dated from the judgment, of the Contest Board, and not from the entry of the certificate of the Canvassing Board, as was contended by the drys. They have maintained, however, from the beginning that licensed dealers were fully protected under the supersedeas until the contest pending had been finally determined by the Court of Appeals and its mandate entered, and in this opinion they have been sustained by the court in the decision handed down Thursday.

The contest will now follow its regular course. The case will first be submitted at the regular term of the Shelby Circuit Court, beginning Monday, January 25, and an appeal taken from the judgment of that court, whichever way the question is decided.

NEGRO ROBBER

Who Had Broken Into Three Stores Arrested Yesterday Morning and Placed In Jail—Is Ex-Convict.

Yesterday morning about 9:30 o'clock Chief of Police Mackey, Officer Tolle and Detective Herbert nabbed Bob Warner, colored, who is wanted on a charge of robbing several stores in this city Thursday night.

Besides breaking into the grocery store of Captain James Dunn in East Third street, as was mentioned in yesterday's Ledger, Warner entered the grocery store of J. C. Cablish & Son in East Second street, Sixth Ward, and got away with the entire contents of the cash register, amounting to $51.

He also entered the meat shop of Staker Bros., in Market street, took $1 and some pennies from the cash register and also a small amount of meat. When arrested at the corner of Second and Bridge streets by the officers Warner had only $42.75 of the money and denied that he was the man wanted. The officers have learned, however, that Warner gave some of the money to a friend.

His examining trial will be held before Judge Whitaker this afternoon and he doubtless will be held over to the grand jury on all three charges. He has served several terms in the penitentiary and is always getting into trouble.

The local officers are to be congratulated for the prompt action in locating Warner and placing him under arrest.

THE PENALTY FOR BREAKING PARTY PLEDGES.

A feature of the recent election whereby the party of protection "came back" so satisfactorily in its representation in Congress, is the defeat of 57 Congressmen at the polls who voted against free tolls for our coastwise fleet in the Panama canal last spring, and not all the Federal patronage that these representatives were given to distribute as a result of their action was able to convince their constituents whom they had betrayed that they should be returned to Washington. In speaking of President Wilson's demand for this legislation, the Marine Journal last June predicted that the President and his party would pay at the polls in November, which has now been verified. In the northern states 111 members voted against their party's platform, which had declared in favor of free tolls for American ships. Now that the people have spoken, the Congressmen that have been elected to stay at home will doubtless have time to think over what it means to repudiate party pledges made to their constituents.—Marine Journal.

A CORDIAL WELCOME TO THE PASTURE OF WORRY.

We neglected last week to make a note of the fact that Mr. Hal C. Curran had bought a half interest in The Maysville Public Ledger, owned by his brother, Mr. Arthur F. Curran. The two brothers are natives of Dover, both are wide-awake business men and forcible writers, and will no doubt make The Ledger more powerful than ever. Mr. Arthur F. Curran started his newspaper career in Dover as proprietor of the Dover News, and later the Messenger. As a partner in The Ledger is Hal's first venture in the field of journalism, and we old fellows who have worn the editorial chair smooth, meet and welcome with outstretched hand the brilliant young man who has the grit to tackle such a large bunch of trouble and vexation that is always found scattered along the pathway of an editor. Here's luck to you, Hal, and may you hit only the sunny spots.—Dover News.

ELECTORAL FATIGUE.

"Electoral fatigue" is the happy phrase of ex-Mayor Matthews of Boston to apply to the revolt of voters against being asked to go to the polls so frequently. Something of this "tired feeling" must enter into the explanation of such a result as the rejection of all the ten constitutional amendments submitted to the people of Wisconsin on November 3, says the New York Evening Post. The official figures are now published and show the overwhelming nature of the defeat. By majorities ranging from 56,000 to 107,000 the Wisconsin electors showed that they would not accept La Follette's plans to round out the "Wisconsin idea" to perfection. The initiative and referendum, state insurance, the recall of elective officials, except judges, and the rest all went down. All told, it is a blow to La Follette harder than his loss of a Governor and United States Senator. Of course, other causes contributed. In the general slump of Progressive notions, Wisconsin was bound to share. But over and above this there must have been a pervasive weariness with forever tinkering with the laws and the constitution. There is such a thing as working the voters too hard; and the political leader who does not take warning and give the people a rest will himself be given a rest.

CRYING FOR HELP

Lots of It in Maysville But Daily Growing Less.

The kidneys often cry for help. Not another organ in the whole body more delicately constructed.

Not one more important to health. The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous. There can be no health where there is poisoned blood.

Kidneyache is one of the frequent indications of kidney trouble. It is often the kidney's cry for help.

Read what Doan's Kidney Pills have done for overworked kidneys. Read what Doan's have done for Maysville people.

Lang Stevens, Maysville, Ky., says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had kidneyache, which extended into my kidneys. The kidney action was irregular. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in my family, so I gave them a trial. They helped me greatly."

Mr. Stevens is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you—don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Stevens had—the remedy backed by honest testimony. 50c all stores. CONVICTS SHOULD WORK ROADS

So Declares A. D. Williams, Chief Highway Engineer of West Virginia. Who Says Men's Health Would Also Benefit.

Both the state and the prisoners would be better off if prison labor were employed on the Kentucky highways, was the statement of A. D. Williams, Chief Road Engineer of West Virginia, in an address delivered before the short course in Highway Engineering at State University, Lexington.

Mr. Williams addressed a gathering of about 70 men in one of the lecture rooms in the Civil Engineering building, and gave a minute analysis of the results of the plan of using convict labor on roadways in several states, strongly advising the adoption of the plan in Kentucky.

He said one of the defects of the prison system as employed in this state was the lack of fresh air for the prisoners and the resulting bad health of the men. He said work on the state roads would not only give the men a chance to work in the fresh air, but would bring the highways up to the highest point of efficiency, and effect a great saving to the good roads department.

Rolman Wiley of Frankfort, State Bridge Engineer, gave another interesting talk on the relative values of culverts and slab bridges and outlined the best plans for building. He is a strong advocate of reinforced concrete culverts.

Moving pictures were again a feature of the course, and an interesting series of films were shown, detailing the process of making cement and illustrating the modern methods of road construction and the erection of sanitary farm buildings with the use of cement. The whole process of digging the material for the cement out of the earth, grinding and heat treating the raw materials and finally turning out the finished product was shown. The application of the cement to roadmaking was shown in one of the reels.

An interesting program has been prepared for tomorrow's work. The list of addresses includes the following: "The Construction of Five Miles of Kentucky Asphalt Roads," by J. Russell Gaines, County Engineer, Jefferson county, Louisville, Ky., and "Corrugated Metal Culverts," by Howard See, Middletown, O.

Thank God every morning when you get up that you have something to do that day which must be done whether you like it or not. Being forced to work and forced to do your best will breed in you a hundred virtues which the idler never knows.—Kingsley.

SPORTS

BASEBALL GOSSIP.

Manager Hugh Jennings of the Detroit Tigers is appearing in vaudeville during the off season.

The Feds seem to have overlooked Connie Mack and George Stallings as the prime movers in the matter of a baseball trust.

Thomas Wagner gained as much publicity by his failure to hit 300 last season as he did by hitting for 300 or better for 16 years.

Upping Lima beans is a new industry in Los Angeles, but earning "lively beans" has long been practiced by major league baseball managers.

When Larry Lajoie left the Athletics 14 years ago he was getting $2,400 a year. He returns to the Mackmen at a salary of $9,000 per year.

A ball park to seat 2,000 spectators is being constructed at Daytona, Fla., for the use of the Brooklyn Superbas as a training camp.

Manager McGraw and Christy Mathewson of the Giants plan to go to Cuba January 16 for a stay of three or four weeks.

Every time a Brave has been named as going to the Phils in exchange for Magee, George Stallings has put the crusher on the story. Perhaps George intends to give the Phils a slice of the fence and bleachers of the Braves' old park.

For in our national pastime. One club for a hour national pastime. One club each in the American and Federal League is owned by brewers, while a brewer and a saloon keeper are said to control two clubs in the Pacific Coast League.

As a one-man board of strategy, Ban Johnson is there, full weight. Adding a "colonel" and a "captain" to hold New York against the Feds certainly makes the forces of O. B. look like real warriors.

IN THE ROPED ARENA.

Ministers of Akron, O., are trying to prevent the Freddie Welsh-Johnny Grif fight scheduled for that city February 1.

Charley White will refuse to box Freddie Welsh in New York January 26 unless the champion agrees to make 145 pounds at 3 o'clock.

In reference to Jess Willard's chances to defeat Jack Johnson a number of fight experts hold that it is a case of a man being too big to be successful against the black.

Now that he has defeated Billy Murray, Eddie McGoorty figures he is entitled to another bout with Jimmy Clubby. In their previous meeting Murray held Clubby to a 20-round draw.

John L. Sullivan, Jim Corbett and Bob Fitzsimmons all are of the same opinion in regards to the present crop of "white hopes" being a punk lot. It's the only instance on record in which the three former champions were in agreement.

HAVE NOT LOST FAITH IN BATTLESHIPS.

Washington, January 16.—A navy's strength is its battleships. This is the opinion of practically all naval authorities in this country and abroad, judging from information being collected at the Navy Department. Despite the excellent showing made by the submarines in the European war, there appears to be little tendency on the part of American naval experts to change their views as to the efficiency of the battleship.

It is believed that the increase in the submarine menace will lead to the invention of some effective means of defense, just as the coming of the aeroplane has developed big guns that may be discharged effectively at an object directly overhead.

The results obtained from the use of submarines in the English Channel and in the North sea can not be applied generally, it is believed. In blockading a long coast line the English ships have made exceptionally good targets for the German submarines. The nearness of the English coast to the bases of the German submarines has made their task comparatively easy. Even under these favorable conditions, it is claimed, thousands of torpedoes have been discharged for each one that scored a hit.

ABERDEEN'S SUCCESSOR A YOUNG MAN.

London, January 16.—Baron Wimborne, who has been selected to succeed the Earl of Aberdeen as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, celebrated his forty-second birthday today, having been born January 16, 1873. When he takes office next month Lord Wimborne will be one of the youngest men who has ever occupied Dublin castle. Lord Wimborne is a cousin of Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, and Mr. Churchill's influence was said to have been exerted in behalf of his cousin's appointment to the important office. The Earl of Granard, whose wife is the former Miss Beatrice Ogden Mills of New York, was a rival for the appointment, and there was much wire-pulling in London before the final selection was made.

Along about the time he is 25 a man goes out after a fortune. Along about the time he is 60 he comes back with a house and lot and $2,000 in life insurance.

A broken promise doesn't worry the fellow who feels that he can easily make a new one.

OPENING OF DETROIT AUTO SHOW

Detroit, Mich., January 16.—Michigan's premier position as an automobile manufacturing state is strikingly illustrated in the many varieties of "Michigan made" cars on exhibition at the annual show of the Detroit Automobile Dealers' Association. The show had its formal opening today and will be continued through the coming week. For the first time in the history of the Detroit show the truck department has been made a prominent feature of the exhibition. In the display of new truck models there are to be seen as many improvements proportionately as in the pleasure cars.

WISHED SHE COULD DIE

And Be Free From Her Troubles, but Finds Better Way.

Columbia, Tenn.—"Many a time," says Mrs. Jessie Sharp, of this place, "I wished I would die and be relieved of my suffering, from womanly troubles. I could not get up, without pulling at something to help me, and stayed in bed most of the time. I could not do my housework."

The least amount of work tired me out. My head would swim, and I would tremble for an hour or more. Finally, I took Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I am not bothered with pains any more, and I don't have to go to bed. In fact, I am sound and well of all my troubles."

Cardui goes to all the weak spots and helps to make them strong. It acts with nature—not against her. It is for the tired, nervous, irritable women, who feel as if everything were wrong, and need something to quiet their nerves and strengthen the worn-out system.

If you are a woman, suffering from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. It will help you. At all druggists.

WASHINGTON LETTER

News Notes From Uncle Sam's Headquarters—The U. S. A. the Biggest Commercial Concern On Earth—Going After More Business.

Washington, January 16.—Some of the officials at the War Department recalled that today was the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of General Henry W. Halleck, one of the comparatively few men who have been at the head of the United States army.

At all the generals on the Union side in the Civil war none perhaps had so comprehensive and complete a technical and theoretical knowledge of the art of war as General Halleck, who was commissioned with the highest grade in the regular army on the recommendation of General Scott in 1861, and who subsequently received from President Lincoln the appointment of general in chief of the armies of the United States.

But while Halleck was the most thorough student of war among all the Union generals, it has been said that his place was in the study and not in the camp; that he was not fitted to deal with practical details of actual military command on a large scale. It is, however, true that Halleck rendered memorable service to the Union, and that he filled acceptably a great gap at a critical time. It was under General Halleck that General Grant won his first victories, and it was Grant's appointment to the grade of lieutenant-general, which Congress revived, that led to Halleck's withdrawal from the office of commander-in-chief. Halleck remained, however, at the side of President Lincoln as chief of staff.

Pressure for rural credits legislation is increasing. President Wilson, however, is understood to be opposed to taking up the question at this session of Congress. It is his opinion that the farmers of the country generally are not familiar with the relief afforded by the Federal Reserve act. Through the machinery of the new banking system loans are greatly facilitated. It will take some time for this to become generally recognized and it is urged here that bankers lose no opportunity of acquainting their territory with the increased provisions for borrowing money at low rates of interest.

There is strong feeling in the District of Columbia for the continuance of the half-and-half plan, in which half of the expenses of improvements in Washington are paid by the Federal government and the other half by the District. It is apparent that the plan of the government to make the nation's capital one of the most attractive cities in the world can not be carried out by the taxpayers in the District of Columbia. All admit that the United States should pay a portion of this expense, but there is considerable difference of opinion as to the proportion. Much bitterness has been engendered in the fight over this question this year. To say the least, it is certain that the change from the half-and-half plan will greatly delay the fulfillment of the project to make Washington the ideal city.

Uncle Sam is engaged at present in the most energetic efforts at trade getting of his career. The Department of Commerce is a veritable bee hive. The cable is being used freely to ascertain just what the people of other lands require. Much of the trade supplied under normal conditions by Germany, Austria and England has been forced to turn to the United States.

At first glance it looks highly mercenary to take advantage of the war to extend American trade interests. But there is another side to the question. Most new countries rely almost wholly on imports for the most luxuries and many necessities. Much inconvenience and no little suffering has been obviated by the systematic manner in which these markets have been supplied from American sources.

The Department of Commerce is in receipt of advices indicating that American business men are showing the greatest interest in reaching further afield for a market for their products. In taking hold of business where it was dropped by German or English firms there have been few cases in which efforts to make exorbitant profits were reported. American manufacturers and exporters generally seem to be imbued with the idea of making a good showing with a view to holding the business when the old competition is renewed.

Lepers are receiving humane treatment at several places in the United States. It is claimed. In order to remedy this condition an effort is being made to secure a national leprosy law which the victims of the dread disease can be cared for properly. The bill providing for this institution is now pending in the House of Representatives and is a composite measure made by the fusing of several bills having the same end in view. A leper's home is maintained by the State of Louisiana, near White Castle, in that state. Despite the limited appropriation for the home it takes care of any leper who comes. In this way lepers from various parts of the United States have been cared for. Louisiana voiced her first objection at the last session of Congress when Representative Morgan introduced a bill for a Federal leper's home. Mr. Morgan stated that Louisiana is tiring of supporting the nation's lepers. The state will offer no objection if the national leprosy home be located on her territory. There is also some talk of the government taking over Pikes Island, where the state of Massachusetts has long maintained an institution for the care of lepers.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK.

Washington, January 16.—The Federal Commission on Industrial Relations is scheduled to meet in New York Monday to begin its much-discussed investigation into the nature and workings of the Rockefeller, Carnegie, Russell Sage and other great charitable and benevolent foundations.

"Greater prosperity through greater foreign trade" is the objective of the Second National Foreign Trade Convention, which is to meet in St. Louis Thursday for a two-day session. Three thousand commercial and industrial organizations, firms and individuals engaged in foreign trade, have been invited to send delegates. The convention will plumb the generalities and concentrate on commercial problems created by the European war and those which will confront American foreign traders when peace is restored.

With something of the same objects in view a foreign banking conference has been called to meet in Chicago Wednesday under the auspices of the Illinois Bankers' Association. At this conference plans will be discussed for establishing banks or branches in South America that will represent the commercial and financial interests of the middle west.

Representatives of the fruit growing interests of the Pacific northwest are to meet in Seattle Saturday to confer on plans for co-operation in marketing their products and also for the establishment of factories in all districts in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana to manufacture by-products of surplus fruits and vegetables.

A conference of the board of governors of the Farm Mortgage Bankers' Association is to be held in Chicago Friday. It is expected that the deliberations will result in defining the position of the association on the matter of rural credits.

Other meetings scheduled for the week include the annual Tuskegee Negro Conference, the annual meeting of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations at Chicago; the annual convention of the National Wholesale Dry Goods Association at New York; the annual convention of the Independent Telephone Association of America at Minneapolis; and the annual meeting of the New York State Bar Association at Buffalo. At the last named meeting for President William H. Taft will be the principal speaker.

The early part of the week will see the inauguration of new Governors in several of the states. Martin G. Brumbaugh will take office in Pennsylvania; James E. Ferguson in Texas; Charles Henderson in Alabama; and Richard L. Manning in South Carolina.

The much-discussed case of Leo M. Frank, the Young Atlanta convict of murder, will come up in the Supreme Court of the United States Monday. When Attorney General Grice of Georgia will present a motion for an early hearing and decision on the petition of Frank's counsel for a new trial.

"UNDERGROUND RAILWAY"

Death Calls John T. Rankin, Son of Noted Ripley Abolitionist, Who Was a Power in Freeing the Negro.

The Greensburg (Ind.) News of January 1, says:

Uncle John T. Rankin, one of Decatur county's most widely known citizens, died at 9 o'clock Monday night, December 29, at his home four miles east of town, known as Rankin's Crossing. The end was due to cancer from which he had been a sufferer for more than a year.

Mr. Rankin was 89 years of age and was born in Ripley, O. His younger life was spent in Ohio, and being strongly opposed to slavery he took a prominent part in the workings of the "underground railway," assisting in getting the fleeing colored people across the Hocking state into Canada. Mr. Rankin had a personal acquaintance with Eliza and in fact with nearly all the characters that appear in Harriet Beecher Stowe's immortal work, "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

On coming to Indiana and settling in Decatur county, Mr. Rankin took up agricultural work and all through the following years has been thus engaged until such time when he was physically unable to do so.

Mr. Rankin was always a Republican in politics and a number of years ago was the farmers' candidate for Congress in the old Fourth District, but was defeated, though he made a very creditable race. He was a man of culture, firm in his friendships and by his personal magnetism, universally admired and esteemed.

LEXINGTON JUNE 2

Is the Tentative Date Set For Big Republican State Platform Convention.

Louisville.—Provided the Republican State Central Committee acts upon the recommendation of the subcommittee composed of H. Green Garrett of Winchester, Colonel John W. McCullough of Owensboro, and Charles L. Schell of Louisville, the Republicans of Kentucky will hold a platform convention in Lexington, June 2, two months prior to the primary election.

CLOSER TO THE SUN.

(Paris Democrat.)

Recently a gentleman who travels out of Paris was in the Kentucky mountains, 60 miles from a railroad. A man asked him the time. The gentleman looked at his watch and told the inquirer. "That's railroad time, isn't it?" asked the man.

"Yes," said the Paris man. "Well, we don't go by railroad time up here," said the man, "we go by sun time 'cause we are closer to the sun than we are to the railroad."

LATEST WAR BULLETINS

The Japs To Aid Allies.

Tokio, January 15.—The promoters in Japan of what has been called the "volunteer movement," have issued a manifesto in which they announced their intention of dispatching an army corps to Europe. To this end they are appealing to both Japanese and foreign donors for funds.

French Go Back Across the Aisne.

London, January 15.—The violent German attack to the north of Suissons which, coupled with a flood stage of the river, has forced the French back across the Aisne, is the most striking news of the last 24 hours from the seat of war. The Germans have been gaining in this locality for several days, but they had not recovered all of the ground lost by them.

British Storm Trenches.

Paris, January 15.—The British by an impetuous attack stormed the strongly entrenched German position near La Bassée at 2 o'clock this afternoon after a vigorous preliminary shelling. This is an important strategic point and its occupation represents an advance of one mile.

"LEXINGTONIAN" NAME OF WALTON'S PAPER.

"The Lexingtonian" is the name of the new weekly paper to be started in a few days by Colonel W. P. Walton, the veteran newspaper man, announced. The first name chosen for the new weekly was "The Lexington Ledger," but this name was abandoned because of the possible confusion with the Lexington Leader. Colonel Walton said he did not know the exact date of the publication of the first issue, though it would be published as soon as all the preliminary arrangements can be made.

ACCUSED RECTOR FACES TRIAL.

Philadelphia, Pa., January 16.—The staple topic of discussion in Episcopal church circles here is the case of the Rev. George Chalmers Richmond, who has been cited to appear before the ecclesiastical court of the Diocese of Pennsylvania on Monday for trial on charges of conduct unbecoming a minister and breach of his ordination vows. The trial will be the first of its kind that has taken place here in many years.

Dr. Richmond is rector of the fashionable St. John's Episcopal church in this city. For several years he has been more or less in the limelight by reason of what he terms his "fight for freedom of speech and common justice." Finally his utterances from the pulpit took such a sensational turn that the higher ecclesiastical authorities felt bound to take some action in the matter.

The immediate cause for Dr. Richmond being cited for trial was found in his sensational declarations against Bishop Rhinelander of the Pennsylvania diocese and his attacks by letter and public utterances upon a former member of his vestry, Charles Brown. Dr. Richmond accused the bishop of sending "ecclesiastical spies" into his church to do the bishop's "dirty work." His attacks upon Mr. Brown were equally vigorous.

BELGIAN RELIEF DAY IN GEORGIA.

Atlanta, Ga., January 16.—Belgian Relief day was observed today by the people throughout the state of Georgia. In Atlanta and in practically all the other cities and larger towns of the state society women sold miniature Belgian flags on the streets. The proceeds of the sales will be used in buying food and other supplies. These will be forwarded to Charleston, from which port they will be carried to Belgium in the Georgia-South Carolina ship.

NEW REPUBLICAN PAPER AT LOUISVILLE.

Louisville, Ky.—The Kentucky Sun, a weekly newspaper devoted to the interest of the Republican party, made its initial appearance here Thursday. It is the first paper here devoted to the Republican party since the organization of the Progressives.

Forest Avenue M. E. Church.—Sunday school meets at 9:30 a. m., G. A. Harding, superintendent. Preaching at 10:45 a. m. and at 7 p. m. by the pastor. Morning subject: "Not Wasted." Evening subject: "The Danger of Neglecting Salvation." Preaching at Stewart's Chapel at 2:30 p. m. A. F. FELTS, Pastor.

First Presbyterian Church.—Rev. C. Connor Brown, State Evangelist, will preach, morning and evening. The meetings have increased in interest and full houses are expected Sunday. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Christian Endeavor at 6:15 p. m. Services this (Saturday) evening at 7 o'clock. A cordial invitation to attend and co-operate in the work.
J. BARBOUR, Pastor.

First Baptist Church.—"The Golden Channel" will be the morning subject, at 10:45; at 7 p. m. the pastor will preach, "The Iron Did Swim." Special music at both services. There will be an important business meeting following the morning service; every member is urged to be present. It is truly inspiring to notice the increased interest in the Sunday school. If you have no other Sunday school home, you are specially invited to meet with our school at 9:30 in the morning. We begin promptly. President Baldwin is greatly invited and urges all of the young people to attend the B. Y. P. U. tomorrow night. They meet at 6 p. m. in the Sunday school room. Good music, good program, good fellowship. Visitors and friends will find a warm welcome to all of these services.
J. D. WILLIAMS, Pastor.

Church of the Nativity.—Sunday school, 9:30 a. m.; morning prayer, 10:15 a. m.; evening service, 7 p. m. All seats free at all services. Strangers are particularly welcome. It is your church as much as ours because it is a house of God. JAMES H. FIELDING, pastor.

Third Street M. E. Church.—Services tomorrow as follows: Divine worship with sermons by the pastor at 10:45 a. m. and 7 p. m. Special music. It has been decided by this church to enter into a series of revival services during March. Services from now on will be in a manner preparatory to the revival. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. One hundred and thirty-three attended last Sunday. Were you there? If not, come tomorrow and help reach the 150 mark. Epworth League devotional service at 6:15 p. m., led by Miss Hurd. For a real inspiring young peoples' meeting attend this one. You will feel younger and better in every way. The public, including strangers within our city, are invited to these services.
L. M. LITERAL, Pastor.

First Christian Church.—Bible school meets at 9:30 a. m. The natural growth of the school is seen in the attendance of 250 last Sunday. Men, women and children all find a welcome awaiting them. The Junior department has made a very good gain. Morning church service begins at 10:45. The sermon will be of special help to the young people. Will those attending Bible school make a special effort to remain for this service. The sermon on "Winning the Game" might be considered a continuation of the one last Sunday which was given to a well filled house. The Endeavor meeting at 6 p. m. is always interesting. The contest in attendance is close. Evening church service with preaching at 7 p. m. The music at all services will be good. We urge the members to bring their friends with them.
A. F. STALL, Minister.

"BLOODY JACKSON" SOBERING UP.

Jackson, Ky., is developing morally as well as commercially. "Bootlegging," "drunks" and all manner of evils are receiving full punishment from the city government. Police Judge Francis Beck and the entire police force are bringing about a real transformation of morals.
